

5 ways to reduce spending for your healthcare system

Purchased services spend now exceeds more than 50% of non-labor costs for many hospitals and healthcare systems. Here's how you can optimize that spend while improving the patient experience.

1. Gain access to an extensive range of contracts

Valify manages the industry's most robust market share database of purchased services categories matched to hundreds of pre-negotiated supplier agreements across 7 unique service lines:

- Facility Support Services
- Clinical Services
- Financial Services
- IT & Telecom
- Ancillary Services
- HR Services
- Insurance

2. Benefit from flexible access

Access to our network of pre-negotiated contracts is flexible, allowing you to keep existing relationships with other GPOs. Plus, you can access as many or as few of our contracts as you prefer.

3. Act on robust data to accelerate savings

You're already seeing solid data based on $1 trillion in total categorized spend. Now, it's time to act on it. Fully embrace a data-driven approach with Valify, using crystal-clear insights and trends that can accelerate, simplify, and support your cost-cutting efforts.

4. Gain a supportive partner who understands

Our commitment to you begins with data and extends to a collaborative partnership that leverages robust benchmarks, actionable insights, and a comprehensive solution to bolster your bottom line and improve the patient experience.

5. Accelerate your path to exceptional value and savings

From data collection to contract management, we make it easy to create a roadmap to identify opportunities, broaden contract coverage, and capitalize on speed to value.
